Two people were killed in the Israeli targeting of Baalbek

On February 26, 2024, Annahar reported that “for the first time since the start of the military escalation between Israel and Hezbollah, Israeli targeting has reached the Baalbek region through raids on a site allegedly belonging to Hezbollah. Initial information indicates that the two raids targeted a Hezbollah center in Baalbek, not warehouses. The targeting came in two waves, the first with a missile that hit a container for storing food between the towns of Al-Alaq and Hawsh Tal Safieh on the Boudai road, while the second raid hit a rented house belonging to one of the members of the Maawiya family. An-nahar’s correspondent reported that at least two people were killed in the Israeli attack, while ambulances rushed to the scene.

Israel launches two raids on the towns of Jebchit shit and Al-Bisariya in southern Lebanon

An-nahar reported on February 27, 2024 that Israel launched two raids on the towns of Jebchit and Al-Bissariya in southern Lebanon for the first time since the start of the escalation with Hezbollah. The Israeli bombing targeted the Tabna area. An Israeli raid was also reported on the vicinity of the town of Al-Mansouri, causing cases of suffocation after the destruction of a house.

10 MPs appealed against the budget law based on seven legal and constitutional violations

According to An-nahar, ten members of parliament representing the Kataeb, Tajadod, and Tahalof Al Taghyeer blocs filed a legal challenge before the Constitutional Council against the constitutionality of Law No. 324 issued on February 12, 2024, which sets the general budget for the year 2024, requesting its suspension and annulment. The appeal included the signatures of MPs: Ashraf Rifi, Elias Hankash, Sami Gemayel, Salim Al-Sayegh, Fouad Makhzoumi, Mark Daou, Michel Al-Duwaish, Michel Moawad, Nadim Gemayel, and Waddah Al-Sadiq. The plaintiffs, represented by lawyer Lara Saadeh, based their challenge on violations of constitutional articles and paragraphs in the preamble to the constitution.
German prosecutors confirm arrest warrant for former Lebanon central bank chief

According to Reuters, German prosecutors confirmed for the first time on February 27, 2024, that they were conducting money laundering investigations into the former head of Lebanon's central bank and had issued an arrest warrant for him. The Munich public prosecutor's office said it was investigating Riad Salameh, Lebanon's central bank chief from 1993 to 2023, together with his brother Raja and other suspects on charges including forgery, money laundering and embezzlement. The Salameh brothers deny all the charges.

Official demands for an independent investigation into Israel's targeting of journalists in southern Lebanon

On February 28, 2024 An-nahar reported citing AFP sources, that more than 120 organizations, media outlets, personalities, and survivors submitted two official letters to the High Commissioner for Human Rights, Volker Türk, and the Director-General of UNESCO, Audrey Azoulay, demanding an independent investigation into Israel's targeting of journalists in southern Lebanon. Israeli strikes on southern Lebanon on October 13 killed Reuters photographer Issam Abdullah and injured six other journalists, including AFP photographers Dylan Collins and Christina Assi, whose foot was amputated and is still recovering in the hospital. Reporter Farah Omar and photographer Rabih Maamari from Al-Mayadeen TV were also killed as a result of an Israeli strike that targeted them on November 21.

General directors call on public sector employees to return to work

On February 29, 2024 An-nahar reported that a number of general directors announced in a statement that, "in line with the convening of the Cabinet of ministers, they met with the President of the Civil Service Council to discuss the approved salary increases for public sector employees, in light of the logistical and material deterioration in the public sector, the acute shortage of administrative staff, and the continued attrition of qualified human resources in the public administration." In a statement, they considered that "what the government has approved, despite its inadequacy in relation to the efforts exerted by employees and workers to ensure the continuity of the public service on the one hand...constitutes a temporary treatment of the rightful salaries that should be fair and take into account the economic reality in light of the taxes and fees approved in the 2024 budget." They stressed that "the employees of public institutions whose situation is similar to that of the employees of the public administration should benefit from the increase approved by the decree, as discrimination between the two categories is not permissible, and they called on the government to correct this as soon as possible in order to achieve justice and equality."
Ministry of Foreign Affairs and Emigrants condemns the deliberate killing of dozens of unarmed Palestinian civilians
On March 1, 2024 the Lebanese Ministry of Foreign Affairs and Emigrants, on its twitter account on the platform “X”, released a statement in which it condemned the deliberate killing of dozens of unarmed Palestinian civilians and the injury of hundreds more through the shelling of humanitarian aid queues in Gaza by the Israeli occupation forces. The ministry stated that such actions weaken the chances of a just and comprehensive peace. The Ministry also called for the establishment of an international investigation committee to determine responsibilities and to prevent the party responsible for this crime from escaping accountability and punishment. The Ministry reiterates the importance of the international community adopting unified standards to stop flagrant violations of international humanitarian law.
